

The Koech Corp Copywriting internship program provides undergraduate and graduate individuals from English-speaking countries a unique opportunity to acquire professional experience in the copywriting field and experience the South American country of Peru.

Koech Corp is a company specialized in both quality informational websites and sales of products and services from Peruvian origins since 2002. Our general headquarters are located in Lima – Peru and our logistics office is in Orlando – United States of America.

Your Program Benefits

- Experience living in a different country
- Gain confidence and international work experience
- Earn money while experiencing life in Peru
- Use your paid vacation time to travel around South America
- Make new friendships that will last a lifetime
- Share your culture with Peruvians as they share theirs with you

KOECH Copywriting Program Advantages

- Two programs per year
- No fees required

Your Copywriter Profile

- Be of American, British or Canadian nationality
- Undergraduate or graduate individuals
- Have proficient writing and research skills
- No previous copywriting experience is needed although desirable
- Be interested in experiencing a new culture
- Be interested in learning Spanish

As A Copywriter Intern you receive

- Monthly salary
- Fully furnished accommodation shared with fellow interns provided with all basic services included (electricity, water, gas, internet) and two times a day cleaning
- About 4 weeks of paid vacation
- Established working hours
- Basic Health Program package for the length of the program
- Two-times a week Spanish classes

Program Extension

If you applied for our program starting in January, depending on your performance during the program, you could be offered the opportunity to extend the program for another 6 months.

Your Responsibilities

Copywriters will work in one of the KOECH's copy production departments (involving health, arts, etc) creating content for the company's various websites. Projects are assigned based on academic training and interests, as well as project availability.

Application Process

We start receiving applications 6 months before each program begins. To apply for our Copywriting Internship, you will need to send us your CV/resume and a brief writing sample (roughly one page of past academic or professional work, no more than 500 words) via email. If your application is successful one member of our staff will interview you via telephone or skype.

Life in Peru:

Peru will surprise you because of the cultural and natural diversity, it is not only the land of the Incas but of many previous civilizations that left us proof of a glorious past such as the ancient city of Caral, the royal tombs of El Señor de Sipán, the enigmatic Nazca lines and the magnificent fortress of Kuelap.

Contact us to get started on your application:
humanresources@koechcorp.com