SPANISH LANGUAGE PROGRAM

Pablo de Olavide University is one of the few universities in Spain which offers “The Teaching of Spanish to Foreigners” as a specialization within the Humanities degree. The courses in the Spanish Language Program are aimed at students who wish to learn or improve their knowledge of the Spanish language in a university setting.

Most programs offer 3 hours daily of Spanish language instruction which includes Spanish grammar, listening comprehension, writing, and oral expression. The student is placed in a learning environment which emphasizes language acquisition through a communicative method. The objective is to develop and apply all of the skills learned. Class size is 8-16 students and classes are held Monday through Friday at the elementary, intermediate and advanced levels (unless otherwise noted).

To fully integrate the student into Sevillian culture and the University environment, the International Center organizes a wide array of cultural activities outside of class time: guided visits to the city’s monuments and museums, Spanish film showings, sporting events, etc. Each month-long, summer or semester program includes at least one activity per month for the students. The Center also provides international students with contact information of Spanish students who wish to participate in language exchanges (“intercambios”). The University offers additional activities (at student prices) such as: Flamenco classes, Spanish guitar lessons, aerobics classes, etc.

In April of 2012, the Center will offer a new 4 week DELE preparatory course. The DELE, an internationally accredited diploma of Spanish as a foreign language, is recognized by the Spanish Ministry of Education .

Application forms are located on our website (www.upo.es/intl) and are due by the deadline set for each program. Please note that although some photocopies may be provided by your instructors, students are expected to purchase the required textbooks and/or course packets.
