International Internships
Work the Planet

Testimonials

When the opportunity came up to do an internship overseas I took the chance. I am very interested in people and culture and diversity within markets all across the world. I was so excited to see how successful marketing is carried out in Europe and with a fast emerging service and marketing economy. I really believe that this internship did help me get more of that experience that I needed for my future career along with getting me in the swing of the ever-changing global advertising."
– Emily S. (Lewis U)
