meaningful travel

The i-to-i philosophy

We believe that travel should be beneficial to everyone involved, which is why we work closely with locally run projects and tour operators. Travel with i-to-i and you'll spend time with local people, work with locally run projects and live in locally run accommodation. You'll have a truly unique travel experience and return home knowing that you have made a real and lasting difference to the lives and futures of the friends you've made along the way.

unique travel experiences

i-to-i Travel Experiences

There are many ways to travel with i-to-i, and we realise that everyone who travels with us is looking for something different. To make it as easy as possible for you to find your perfect trip, the icons below will give you an idea of what each trip is all about. Look out for them throughout the brochure.

Teaching

Rewarding and fulfilling, these projects offer you the chance to work with schools and community groups in more than 20 countries worldwide.

Sports

Working with community groups and schools, you'll share your passion for sport with the next generation.

Work Experience

Health, media, marketing and tourism projects that are ideal for people looking for a career break or gap year.

Conservation

Join the fight for the future of the planet by working alongside local conservation projects worldwide.

Community Development

Caring and patient volunteers are needed to work with vital community projects that offer hope of a better future to people living in poverty.

Tours

Combining top quality overland tours with vital environmental and humanitarian volunteer work. Truly ethical tourism.

Building

Fun and physical building projects that make a real difference to the lives of underprivileged communities in the developing world.

TRAVEL WITH i-to-i

Responsible Travel

We've developed an ethical policy that guides every aspect of our business. We're committed to providing responsible travel experiences, which benefit local communities and endangered environments worldwide whilst minimising the negative effects of mass tourism.

Supporting Local Communities

By travelling with i-to-i you'll be helping to ensure the long-term sustainability of the local projects that we work with and the communities and environments in which they operate.

We do not give direct funding to the projects we work with. Many experts believe that the constant flow of financial aid into the developing world causes an over-reliance on foreign aid and actually harms the long-term stability of local economies. It is your time and effort (rather than cold hard cash) that makes a difference. What we do is ensure that the infrastructure is in place for you to make a difference. We truly believe that by working together and forging relationships with the developing world, we can make a real and lasting difference.

No Single Supplement

Unlike most major travel companies, we don't think that you should be penalised for choosing to travel by yourself. Travelling solo offers you the chance to reflect upon life, to make new friends and to experience travel in a way that is often impossible when travelling with friends or partners.

A Global Support Network

We have well trained people in every country we work in to ensure that all the day-to-day realities are taken care of. We also retain the services of the world's leading crisis management consultancy, Docleaf. They have helped us to implement a global safety plan, which ensures that in the unlikely event of something going wrong, we have all the bases covered.

Worldwide Choice

With over 500 projects and tours on 5 continents, we offer an unrivalled choice of responsible travel options. We haven't put all our projects in this brochure because it would have been the size of a phone directory and we'd have had to cut down a small forest to print it! To see our full range of products, visit our website - www.i-to-i.com

Worldwide Reputation

Because of the quality of our overseas trips and the dedication of our staff, we have a worldwide reputation as the leader in our field. This excellent reputation has led to long-term partnerships with companies like Lonely Planet, STA Travel and Opodo. Because we love what we do, we are the very best at what we do, which means you can rest assured that everything that can be done has been done to ensure your overseas trip goes smoothly.

A Travel Company run by Travellers

We know about travel because we've travelled ourselves and have years of experience helping people get out there and do it. Our Managing Director got involved in the travel industry after leaving a well-paid job for a leading consultancy firm and travelling from Cape Town to London in a Land Rover. It took him 8 months and he hasn't stopped talking about it since. We are passionate about what we do and we truly believe that by working for i-to-i, we are doing something positive and worthwhile.

The i-to-i Foundation

The i-to-i Foundation (Reg.1099482) is a registered charity designed to provide essential resources to projects that really need them.

In the last year alone the i-to-i foundation has made significant donations to eight of our most disadvantaged projects. These included:

- Providing educational resources to schools and learning centres across India
- The renovation and refurbishment of a medical clinic in Tanzania
- The construction of a community centre in Brazil

ACCOMMODATION

When you travel with i-to-i, you will stay in locally run accommodation. By staying in local hotels, guesthouses and homestays, the money you pay for accommodation goes directly into the local economy, so before you've even lifted a finger you've already made an important contribution.

There are 100's of different accommodation options when travelling with us, so we can't list them all. The options below will give you a pretty good idea of the sorts of places you might stay.

Accommodation varies from place to place, so the exact details will vary depending upon location and not all the choices below are available in all destinations. But one thing remains certain... you'll receive a warm welcome wherever you lay your head.

Homestays

We think that the best way to really get under the skin of a foreign country is to live with a local family. You'll stay in a comfortable home and get a taste of local specialities.

Hotels and Guesthouses

The locally-owned and locally-run hotels and guesthouses we work with offer a safe and comfortable place to lay your head. They are also a great place to meet fellow travellers.

Tented Camps and Jungle Camps

These camps are often pretty basic and offer our more adventurous travellers the chance to experience outdoor life in some truly stunning locations.

Volunteer Houses

These places are owned and run by our in-country teams. You'll be staying in a house full of other volunteers, which makes them a great place to swap stories, make friends and start parties!

Premier Accommodation

If you want a more comfortable and relaxing place to lay your head after a long day of making the world a better place, this may be the perfect solution. Our premier accommodation options offer things like cable TV, en-suite bathrooms and air-conditioning.

WHAT TRIP SHOULD I CHOOSE?

Teaching

Many of the projects we work with offer children from poor backgrounds the opportunity to attend school and gain a vital education. Full Teaching English as a Foreign Language (TEFL) training is included for all teaching trips.

Conservation

Join the fight for the future of our environment by working with vitally important ecology and conservation projects across the planet. Projects include Orang-utan conservation in Borneo, reforestation on Mount Kenya and many more.

Community Development

Work with community groups in some of the poorest parts of the planet. Join forces with local projects and help them grow in a sustained and manageable way. Full TEFL training included.

Building

If you want a hands on volunteer experience our building projects may be just what your after. Projects include building community centres in the favelas of Rio and house building projects across Africa, Asia, Latin America and the Caribbean.

Work experience

Ideal if you're looking for a constructive way to spend your gap year or career break. Use the skills you have and learn a few more. Media, Health and Journalism are available.

Sports

Working with community groups, schools and orphanages, these trips offer you the chance to pass on your passion for sport and get a little exercise into the bargain. Projects available worldwide.

INDONESIA

This beautiful archipelago lies in the Indian Ocean between Asia and Australia and is made up of thousands of beautiful islands. With ancient ruins aplenty and natural wonders throughout, this often idyllic country has so much to offer the independent traveller.

The scattered isles are home to over 300 ethnic and tribal groups, many of which still follow in the cultural footsteps of their ancestors by continuing the ancient practices of the past.

Why Indonesia needs volunteers

Tourism is one of the main sources of income in Bali and people who can speak good English have much better career chances. By helping people to improve their English you can make a real difference to the lives of your students and their families.

Indonesia: Top Tips

➔ Kick back in Ubud, Bali. It's a lovely laid back town with a fantastic arts scene. Get there soon before it gets too touristy.

➔ Take a trip out to the island of Sumba. It's about as far off the beaten track as you can get.

➔ Don't be put off travelling east of Bali. It's perfectly safe and you can get the most amazing long distance tickets in Indonesia, which makes travelling so simple.

Indonesia: Top Trips

Teach English in Bali

Bali is the main tourist destination in Indonesia, so it's becoming increasingly important that people can speak English.

Surf and Teach in Bali

Combine teaching conversational English to school children with surf lessons in Kuta.

Work with Disabled People in Bali

Get involved with this community centre which helps disabled locals.

In an attempt to save a few trees, we haven't included all our trips in this brochure. To check out the full range of projects in Indonesia, visit www.i-to-i.com/indonesia

Work with orphans and disabled People in Bali

How about discovering all that Bali has to offer? Despite its popularity Bali has refused to become a giant holiday resort or the exclusive territory of bleary-eyed stopover passengers hitting the beach before their connecting flight. It retains the picture postcard looks to such an extent that many don't bother with the personality of the island, but you should. Ancient temples stand as a testament to traditional architectural skill and religious belief while customary dances and ceremonies often invade the streets. Our partner projects on the island works with orphans and disabled people and will use your talents through a variety of methods, including formal learning, conversation classes, games, songs and story-telling. We'll include our TEFL certification free for everyone joining the project.

Surf and Teach English in Bali

Ever wanted to learn to surf? Pour in plenty of crystal blue waters, a liberal pinch of golden sand, remove all tourists and bake in the sun for 24 hours and you've got the perfect recipe for a tropical paradise. The picturesque coastal village of Canggu remains largely ignored by all but the cleverest tourists and you'll only have to share the beach with the children on the project, who you will help teach. The kids won't be the only ones doing the learning though as free surfing lessons are included in the project along with enough free time in the afternoons to practice. TEFL certification is included in the price to give you a head start in the classroom, but we're afraid your success at surfing is totally up to you!

WHAT'S NOT

An i-to-i Holiday Rep

We don't think that our travellers need their hands held every minute of the day, (we're guessing that you wouldn't be reading this if you wanted a package holiday). So there won't be an annoying holiday rep following you around, pointing out what you should be taking pictures of or telling you where to have lunch. Our in-country teams will be there to help you sort out your travel plans, offer a little local insight and generally make your time overseas as hassle free as possible. The rest is up to you!

Travel Insurance

Travel insurance is compulsory when travelling with i-to-i, and we can offer comprehensive travel insurance with one of our world-class suppliers. Unlike many insurance providers this policy covers volunteer work and many adventure activities.

The policy covers:

- Medical insurance
- Luggage cover (low excess)
- Cancellation cover in case of medical emergency
- Flights home in case of a medical emergency

What is TEFL?

If you can speak and write English, then you already have the most important skills you'll need to Teach English as a Foreign Language (TEFL). Once you are fully qualified (which can take as little as two days with our weekend courses), you'll be in a position to find well paid teaching work worldwide.

You don't need any previous teaching experience; our internationally recognised courses will give you all the skills, confidence and qualifications you'll need to fund your future travels or start a new life and a lucrative career living and working overseas as an English teacher.

The TEFL lifestyle

Teaching English abroad is one of the last truly authentic cultural adventures around. You'll experience a complete immersion into the daily life of the local community; you'll shop in the same markets, eat the same food, take the same buses and live in the same neighbourhoods... you'll be welcomed into the community as a friend and a colleague.

And you'll be making a real and lasting contribution to the lives of your students by improving their educational and career choices.

i-toi TEFL Courses

We have been running TEFL courses for more than 12 years and in that time we have trained more than 50,000 people to teach English abroad.

Our TEFL courses are accredited by the Open and Distance Learning Council (ODLQC). The ODLQC is one of the UK's most respected accreditation bodies, so you can book with complete confidence that you're getting the best possible course at the best possible price. Because of the quality of our courses language schools the world over actively seek out i-to-i TEFL graduates for teaching jobs abroad.

The Experience

"The i-to-i Online TEFL Course is a perfect online course for busy people aspiring to become English teachers, for those who would like to expand their professional knowledge of English teaching, and especially for those near-native or non-native speakers who would like teaching English as their profession.

I'm so thankful to my tutor for giving me a lot of practical suggestions for activities in the course and for being so considerate when I was beyond my course deadline."
