Intern In Uruguay

Montevideo is a surprise, a very nice surprise. For a capital city there are very few buildings taller than 3 stories and there are trees, and trees and more trees along every street and plaza and boulevard. Even better, it is encircled on three sides by beaches. Best of all, it is one of the safest capital cities in all of Latin America. This colonial city is easy to navigate, filled with a surprising variety of amenities and it is fairly flat so walking is easy and recommended. With many neighborhoods, from “Ciudad Vieja” to Downtown to the trendy “Pocitos” area, it is impossible to be bored. Then there are the people: so nice and so willing to assist that sometimes it is overwhelming...if you ask for directions it is highly likely that the person you ask will not only tell you how to get to where you need to go, but will take you there personally. Seriously. We are proud and excited to launch this new program here in Uruguay where literally no other program like ours exists.
