

Uganda

Post-Conflict Transformation

Examine the human cost of conflict in northern Uganda and the ways local communities are fostering peace, economic development, and sustainable reconciliation.

Coursework

Please note: This program will have credit distribution and/or other curriculum changes beginning in the fall 2012 semester. Please visit www.sit.edu/UGR for details.

Post-Conflict Transformation Seminar

PEAC 3000 / 6 credits / 90 class hours

An interdisciplinary course conducted in English with required readings and relevant educational excursions. The seminar explores the contextual and contemporary circumstances surrounding conflict, as well as issues of national and ethnic identity, internally displaced people (IDPs), refugees, and reconstruction initiatives. Students analyze institutional and cultural processes of peace restoration and community building. Lecturers are drawn from institutions such as Gulu University, Makerere University, nongovernmental organizations (NGOs) working in Uganda, and, in Rwanda, the National University of Rwanda, the National Unity and Reconciliation Commission, and the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda.

Seminar topics typically include:

Sociopolitical History of Conflicts in Uganda and Rwanda

The colonial legacy and the origins of conflict in Uganda; the political and international dimensions of the conflict in northern Uganda; pre-genocide identity politics; post-genocide politics in Rwanda; post-conflict/genocide state building in Uganda and Rwanda.

Lake Victoria Basin Conflict Dynamics

International dimensions of conflict in Uganda and Rwanda; group and ethnic identity as causes of conflict; displaced persons and refugees; resettlement and relocation due to conflict; economic and social impacts of large-scale conflicts; local and international media coverage and global understanding.

Conflict Resolution and Prevention

Conflict analysis, assessment, mapping, and prevention; root causes and warning signs of conflicts; stages of conflict and genocide; the role of the International Criminal Court and international tribunals; justice at local and national levels; forgiveness and reconciliation in post-conflict/genocide Uganda and Rwanda; reintegration of former child soldiers in Uganda; post-conflict education and training programs; conflict memories, memorials, and outreach programs.

Educational Excursions

The program includes field visits to former IDP camps in northern Uganda and current refugee camps, as well as museums, sites of collective memory, genocide memorials, and organizations working in the areas of community building and transitional justice. The program's excursion to Rwanda gives students the opportunity to study pre-genocide politics and post-genocide restoration and peacebuilding in a comparative context and to learn about post-conflict transformation in the broader Great Lakes region.

Intensive Language Study: Acholi

ACHO 1000 / 3 credits / 45 class hours

Emphasis on introductory speaking, practical usage, and comprehension skills through classroom and field instruction. Formal instruction is augmented by language practice with host families during the homestay.

Field Study Seminar

ANTH 3500 / 3 credits / 45 class hours

A course in the concepts of learning across cultures and from field experience. Introduction to the Independent Study Project. Material includes cross-cultural adaptation and skills building; project selection and refinement; methodologies; field study ethics and the World Learning/SIT Human Subjects Review Policy; identifying contacts and resources; developing skills in observation and interviewing; gathering, organizing, and communicating data; maintaining a work journal. Given the emotional impact of the program, the course devotes additional time to psychological orientation and extended debriefing to process site visits and field experiences.
